List of Those in Town and County Who Have Answered the Summons.

ISAAC WEIKERT, a well known citizen of Cumberland township, living at Greenmount, died on last Wednesday evening, having reached the good old age of 83 years. On July 5, Mr. Weikert was stricken with paralysis and lingered in a semi-conscious state until death put an end to his sufferings. Mr. Weikert had been a successful farmer his entire life, retiring a few years ago from the active work of the farm. As a good husband, father and citizen he won and held the respect of a wide circle of acquaintances. The funeral was held on last Saturday the services being conducted by his pastor Rev. Dr. T. J. Barkley, with interment in the Evergreen cemetery. He leaves four sons and four daughters, Edwin Weikert of Greenmount, Mahlon and Jacob Weikert of near Fairfield, Harry Weikert and Mrs. Wm. P. Weikert of McKnightstown, Mrs. William Harner of near Emmitsburg, Mrs. Annie Seiss and Miss Emma Weikert at home. Four brothers and two sisters survive, Levi Weikert, Emanuel Weikert and David Weikert of Cumberland township, George Weikert of Woodsboro, Md., Mrs. Levi Plank of Cumberland township and Mrs. Henrietta Pittenfert of Harrisburg.

She leaves beside her husband five sons and two daughters, Charles K. Mrs. Anna Eitter of Drake county, Ohio, and Miss Catharine Forry at home.

BENJAMIN HOSTETTER died at his home in Hanover on last Saturday evening July 18, from a complication of diseases, aged 34 years, 10 months and 26 days. He was a son of Mrs. Maria Hostetter, and was married three years ago to Miss Kate Ickes, daughter of the late William Ickes, of Conowago township, Adams County, who survives him, with one small daughter Naomi. He is also survived by his mother and three brothers—John E., Abraham F. and E. F. Hostetter, all of Hanover. Deceased was a cigarmaker and was a member of Cigarmakers' Union No. 316, of McSherrystown. Funeral yesterday, interment in Mt. Olivet Cemetery, Hanover.

cancer, aged 55 years. She was the last of her family, her brother, Henry Galbraith, of this place having passed away last February. For many years she made her home in Arendtsville with a sister. For several years she has been living with Mr. Spangler. The funeral was held last Saturday, Rev. T. C. Hesson conducting the services with interment at Hunterstown.

ness of rock, and that the hole became crooked. It was alleged that the work would be resumed in the spring. Work did not start and now the suit has been entered.

Wolf Company Reorganize.

The Wolf Company of Chambersburg in which a number of Gettysburg people are interested, has been reorganized and placed on a sound basis. The United States Court has confirmed the agreement of the creditors with the company. After this confirmation the old board of directors resigned and a new board of directors was elected, J. L. Butt and Hon. D. P. McPherson of this place being among the new directors. Walter K. Sharpe, Esq., was made one of the directors. Mr. Sharpe was appointed receiver last year and demonstrated that the company could be run at a good profit. Mr. Butt was one of the committee on reorganization that has placed the company on a sound business basis.

Immense Post Office Business.

The N. G. P. encampment has increased the work of the Gettysburg Post Office to the size of the business of a small city. A post office has been installed in camp with Riley Harnish in charge. Carriers are making frequent collections and delivery of mails through camp and the collections are being sent as fast as collected to the Gettysburg post office. Here additional mailing clerks are kept constantly at work, making out the mails. The misdirected mail and postal cards without stamps take a half day's work of one man each day in the effort to correct. The sale of stamps has exceeded any previous camp and this notwithstanding the large amount of one cent stamps brought into town by Guards and others.

Reversal on Appeal.

The Superior Court handed down a decision last week in the case of Borough of Gettysburg vs. Gettysburg Transit Company. It is the case in which plaintiff sued defendant for car tax of $50 a car and which had been defended on ground that the amount was unreasonable and that there had been no inspection to justify such a tax. Judgment had been given against defendant in the Court below. The Superior Court reversed such judgment.

MARRIAGES.

TRIMMER—SHEELY.—On June 21st, at Littlestown, by Rev. F. S. Linderman, Charles E. Trimmer, of Cumberland township and Miss Daisy Sheely of Gettysburg.

BEAUTIFUL GREAT CAMP

IS THE VERDICT OF GOVERNOR, OFFICERS, RANK AND FILE.

Whether Gettysburg is an Available Site in the Future Will Depend in Part Upon the Town.

Governor Edwin S. Stuart, seated in his khaki tent at Division Headquarters with the parade ground swarming before him for almost a mile around the square, with the camps of the three brigades within range of vision, with the picture of camp in charming perspective with the magnificent South Mountains in the distance, declared in an interview that the site of Camp Alexander M. Hays was beautiful, office or business is not the greatest, historically great. This is the verdict not only of the commander of the National Guard of Pennsylvania, Army camp.

Major General John A. Wiley, and the officers at Division and Brigade Headquarters, but also of the rank and file of the Guards.

On every side one hears the comment that it is the best located camp ever held at Gettysburg. With the three brigades camped about the parade ground and the cavalry and artillery also located on the west of the parade ground, the entire body of the Guards is bunched better than on any previous camp, yet not too close to effect in any way the grounds for inspections, drills and parade.

No Permanent Sites.

The fact that the camp site is the finest to be found in Pennsylvania for division encampment will not secure for Gettysburg permanent camping grounds under the Act of 1905, appropriating $30,000 for the purchase of land for a permanent camping ground. In the expressive language of the street, that act is a dead one, according to the information received from officials at the head of the Guard. The Act was practically killed by Gov. Pennypacker. The Act carried an appropriation which must be used within two years from the passage of the Act and Gov. Pennypacker not having acted, the appropriation died. The Act authorizing the securing of permanent camping grounds is in force but there is no available money with which to buy such grounds and unless the Legislature makes an appropriation in the future for such purpose, the Act will never become operative.

Way to Secure Future Camps.

Gettysburg had entertained hopes that a permanent site would be secured here but in the face of the above condition whether Gettysburg will ever obtain another encampment of the National Guard depends upon three contingencies.

First, available site. We have that all the time. An officer ranking near the head of the Guard said, "There are lots of other sites in Pennsylvania, communities that are anxious to have the Guards, with grounds that would accommodate a division encampment, but I know of no place in the State that affords the fine all-around site that Gettysburg does."

That fact however will not assure Gettysburg an encampment, for the demands of other sections must be considered. Other portions of the State have insisted that a division encampment should be sent their way.

Second, the consensus of opinion of the officers of the National Guard having a voice in the selection of a site. There is no question that Gettysburg has many friends among the officers of the Guard, not only by reason of the magnificent site but also on account of the battlefield which is a great lesson in the making of a soldier.

Third, Gettysburg must do her part from a financial point of view. It will make no difference that Gettysburg affords the finest camp site in the State, nor that every officer in the Guard having a voice in the selection of a camp should be in favor of Gettysburg as a camp site, unless Gettysburg contributes her part the N. G. P. camp will not be held here.

As explained there are many places in the State anxious to secure the encampment and willing to do whatever is asked of them. There are places, as in Maryland, where no charge is made for land and where there is no limit to the amount of land. It was sold for $100 an acre, where the owners are not to be disturbed.

The place chosen for the camp is the one where the camp is to be held.

The camp is to be held in the area of the battlefield.

every point along their lines. There were excursions from Philadelphia, Baltimore, Harrisburg, Hagerstown, and every town within the radius of this place contributed to the immense throng. The Western Maryland had six trains in addition to the regular Sunday train and the sixty-five coaches brought 1,769 visitors. The Reading railroad had eight sessions at the five cars composing same brought 3,410 visitors. The thousands of people walked and rode through the town, out through the camp and over the battlefield. It was an ideal day, the heat being reduced by a good breeze. Many of the visitors were relatives, friends and acquaintances of the Guards and received hospitality and entertainment from the men in camp.

A Working Camp.

The encampment is a more desirable asset for a community at the present time than ever before in the history of the Guard, and this because of the change taking place in the Guard. When the Guards first came to Gettysburg the week spent here was largely a picnic and a frolic. The idea of an outing and picnic has been eliminated. The Guard has become a working camp. The effort is to eliminate the frolic and to teach as much of the life of a regular soldier as can be crowded into a week's time. Officers of the United States Army are present at the encampment and the effort is to improve an encampment with inspections, drills and parades that will compare with those in the regular army. Indeed in an interview that the site of Camp Alexander M. Hays was beautiful, office or business is not the greatest, historically great. This is the verdict not only of the commander of the National Guard of Pennsylvania, Army camp.

This idea of a working camp presents the Guards in a different light to the community. He does not fill up the town. He does not make as much noise. He does not make all night of every night at camp. The town before midnight has subsided to the usual quiet. But the ten thousand men must be provided for and there is as much money in a working camp as in any other kind.

Opening of Camp.

Camp Alexander M. Hays formally opened on last Thursday morning, though details had been arriving for several days prior, erecting tents and making everything ready for the arrival of the full brigades. Brigadier General C. Bow Dougherty of the Third Brigade opened the camp on last Thursday morning in a spectacular maneuver known as "Trooping the Colors."

The Third Brigade was the first brigade to arrive in camp and began to come Wednesday evening and opened the camp officially before the arrival of the other two brigades. The Second Brigade arrived Thursday evening and night and the First Brigade on Friday evening, the last regiment coming on Saturday morning after daylight.

"Trooping the Colors" in opening camp consisted in a maneuver in forming a hollow square before the Brigadier General. When the rare formation was completed the national salute of twenty-one guns was fired and the national flag was officially raised over the camp. The men of the regiment bands of the Third Brigade assembled at the right of the Brigadier General and in the center of the square of troops standing at present arms played "The Star Spangled Banner." Governor Edwin S. Stuart arrived on Thursday afternoon and took his seat in a carriage to inspect the camp. The Guards were in full uniform and the band was playing.

Is assured you when you buy Dr. Pierce's family medicines—for all the ingredients entering into them are printed on the bottle-wrappers and their formulas are attested under oath as being complete and correct. You know just what you are paying for and that the ingredients are gathered from Nature's laboratory, being selected from the most valuable native medicinal roots found growing in our American forests and while potent to cure are perfectly harmless even to the most delicate women and children. Not a drop of alcohol enters into their composition, much better health is used both for excretions and cleansing the blood vessels refined glycerine. This agent possesses intrinsic medicinal properties of its own being a most valuable antiseptic and antiflammatory, nutritive and soothing demulcent.

Glycerine plays an important part in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in the cure of indigestion, dyspepsia and weak stomach, attended by sour risings, heartburn, foul breath, coated tongue, poor appetite, gnawing feeling in stomach, biliousness and kindred derangements of the stomach, liver and bowels.

Besides curing all the above distressing ailments, the "Golden Medical Discovery" is specific for all diseases of the mucous membranes, as catarrh, whether of the nasal passages or of the stomach, bowels or pelvic organs. Even in its ulcerative stages it will yield to this sovereign remedy if its use be persevered in. In Chronic Catarrh of the Nasal passages, it is well while taking the "Golden Medical Discovery" for the necessary constitutional treatment, to cleanse the passages freely two or three times a day with Dr. Sage's starch Remedy. This thorough course of treatment generally cures the worst cases.

Coughs and hoarseness caused by bronchial throat and lung affections, especially in its advanced stages, the "Golden Medical Discovery" is a most efficient remedy, especially in those obstinate, hang-on coughs caused by irritation and congestion of the bronchial mucous membranes. The "Discovery" is not so good for acute coughs arising from sudden colds, nor must it be expected to do much good in its advanced stages—no medicine will do that. In all the obstinate, chronic coughs which, if neglected, or badly treated, lead up to consumption, it is the best medicine that can be taken.

We favor the eight-hour day on all government work.

We pledge the Democratic party to the enactment of a law by Congress as far as the Federal administration extends, for a general tax on liquor, prohibiting its causing injury to body or life of employee.

We pledge the Democratic party to the enactment of a law creating a department of labor, represented separately in the President's Cabinet, whose department shall include the care of mines and mining.

—SIXTH AVENUE.

We believe in the upbuilding of the American merchant marine without loss or additional burdens upon the people and without encumbrances from the public treasury.

THE NAVY.

The constitutional provision that a navy shall be provided and maintained is specific for all diseases of the mucous membranes, as catarrh, whether of the nasal passages or of the stomach, bowels or pelvic organs. Even in its ulcerative stages it will yield to this sovereign remedy if its use be persevered in. In Chronic Catarrh of the Nasal passages, it is well while taking the "Golden Medical Discovery" for the necessary constitutional treatment, to cleanse the passages freely two or three times a day with Dr. Sage's starch Remedy. This thorough course of treatment generally cures the worst cases.

PROTECTION OF AMERICAN CITIZENS.

We pledge ourselves to insist upon the just and lawful protection of our citizens at home and abroad, and to use all proper methods to secure for them, whether native born or naturalized, and without distinction of race or creed, the equal protection of law and the enjoyment of all rights and privileges open to them under our treaties; the right of travel and sojourn is denied to American citizens or residents by any countries on the ground of race or creed, we favor prompt negotiations with the governments of such countries to secure the removal of these unjust discriminations.

We demand that all over the world a duly authenticated passport issued by the Government of the United States to an American citizen shall be proof of the fact that he is an American citizen and shall entitle him to the treatment due him as such.

CIVIL SERVICE.

The laws pertaining to the Civil Service should be honestly and rigidly enforced, to the end that merit and ability should be the standard of appointment and promotion, rather than services rendered to a political party.

PENSIONS.

We favor a generous pension policy, both as a matter of justice to the surviving veterans and their dependents, and because it tends to relieve the country of the necessity of maintaining a large standing army.

HEALTH BUREAU.

We advocate the organization of all existing national public health agencies into a national bureau of public health with such power over sanitary conditions connected with factories, mines, tenements, child labor and other such subjects as are properly within the jurisdiction of the Federal Government and do not interfere with the power of the States controlling public health agencies.

AGRICULTURAL EDUCATION.

The Democratic party favors the extension of agricultural, mechanical and industrial education. We therefore favor the establishment of district agricultural experiment stations, and secondary agricultural and mechanical colleges in the several states.

ELECTION OF SENATORS.

We favor the election of United States Senators by direct vote of the people and regard this reform as the gateway to other national reforms.

OKLAHOMA.

We welcome Oklahoma to the sisterhood of States and heartily congratulate her on the auspicious beginning of a great career.

ARIZONA AND NEW MEXICO.

The national Democratic party has for the last 16 years labored for the admission of Arizona and New Mexico as separate States of the Federal Union, and, recognizing that each possesses every qualification to successfully maintain separate State governments, we favor immediate admission of these Territories as separate States.

CEASING LANDS.

The establishment of rules and regulations, if any such are necessary, in relation to tree grazing upon the public lands outside of trust or other reservations, until the same shall eventually be disposed of, should be left to the respective States responsible for which such lands may be situated.

WATERWAYS.

We establish the best means of transportation and the National Government by leaving the control of navigable waters, should be given to them to their proper agents. We earnestly favor the immediate creation of a Bureau of Navigation, similar to the Bureau of Fisheries, to regulate navigation on inland waterways, to be conducted by a commission of experts.

INTERSTATE TRADE.

We favor a mail collection by local postmen and State collectors with their respective sums, or all of money collected in the form of stamps under their own post offices, to be administered by a Post Office Department, or by a Postmaster General, who cannot be amalgamated with other departments, or whose functions would raise a question of interference with those of the Postmaster General.

INTERSTATE TAXES.

We believe in the right of the citizen holding a patent in a foreign country to conduct a manufacture under his patent within a certain time, shelter restrictions should be applied in this country to the citizens or subjects of such a country.

CONCURRENCE.

The Democratic party stands for democracy; the Republican party stands for itself all that is aristocratic and plutocratic.

The Democratic party is the champion of equal rights and opportunities to all; the Republican party is the party of privilege and private monopoly. The Democratic party is true to the voice of the whole people and urges progress by the prosperity and advancement of the average man; the Republican party is subservient to the comparatively few who are the beneficiaries of governmental favoritism. We invite the co-operation of all, regardless of previous political affiliation or past differences, who desire to preserve a government of the people by the people and for the

Reading.DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM.

The Democratic Platform presented on second and third pages of this issue clearly defines the issue of the present campaign. The Republican party is arraigned for what it represents, for the law make official above the law in the person of the Speaker of the House of Representatives, for the "Big Stick" in the matter of a forced succession in the presidency. The Republican platform stands for adequate protection to domestic interests, which means the perpetuation of the enormous fortunes made because of protection of interests which have provided the enormous campaign funds to secure their continued existence. The Republican platform is silent on the questions of publicity of campaign contribution, the popular election of U. S. Senators, income tax and economy in administration, and most appropriately silent on the latter question in the face of a Congress making appropriations of a billion dollars. The Democratic platform stands for a House of Representatives controlled by a majority of the people's representatives, for a popular election of U. S. Senators, for an ending to the dynasty of the Big Stick, for tariff revision to a revenue basis and for an income tax. These differences present in strongest contrast the Democratic Issue "Shall the People Rule" as against the Republican Issue "Shall the Protected Class and a One Man Dynasty Rule?"

THE CAMPAIGN IS ON.

The campaign of W. J. Bryan has been sent to the quarter post with a decided advantage over that of his competitor. Following Bryan's nomination came the announcement that Samuel Gompers, President of the American Federation of Labor, and John Mitchell, late president of the powerful miner's association would support Bryan because the Democratic platform gave the greater justice in the treatment of labor. The reports of labor leaders all over the country indicate that the three million labor votes will support the Democratic ticket. While Republican leaders were flirting with the principle of publicity in campaign contributions the Democratic National Committee called their game by a resolution that no contribution to campaign fund shall be accepted from corporations, no contribution over $10,000 shall be accepted and all contributions over $100 will be made public Oct. 15 and thereafter immediate publication will be given. The Republican party came reluctant with a show-down in the form of no contributions from corporations and a publication after election, but that did not reach up to the situation in a campaign on the issue "Shall the People Rule."

Bold Theft for Small Plunder.

A bold theft was committed one night last week at the residence of Joseph G. Keagy, along the New Oxford road, near McSherrystown. At an early hour in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Keagy retired, leaving a screen in the kitchen window, and Mr. Keagy placing his trousers at the foot of the bed. Next morning he observed that the trousers had been removed and upon investigation found that his pocketbook containing $3 was gone. Going to the kitchen the removal of the screen gave evidence as to how the entrance was made. The empty pocketbook was found on the porch. A few days previous Mr. Keagy sold considerable wheat, but placed the money in a secluded place, which escaped the thief's notice. It is evident the thief was aware that Mr. Keagy disposed of his wheat and was after the proceeds.

Conveyance Struck by Trolley.

Rev. Eugene Halstermeyer of Conowago Chapel was driving out Church St. McSherrystown on last Thursday, at a time when extra cars were running over the new Littlestown extension on account of a picnic at Conowago Park, where a car caught the rear wheels of his phaeton upsetting same and throwing Father Halstermeyer to the street. He escaped without injury, the wheels of his conveyance being badly damaged. The motorman applied the brakes and tried to stop the car. When Rev. Halstermeyer observed the car he was on the track and urged the horse across but the rear wheels of his conveyance were struck.

A Vacation Trip to Northfield, Mass

By invitation of the College Y. M. C. A. the writer attended the Student's Conference at East Northfield, Mass., June 26th to July 5th. It was a splendid experience and we shall forever remember it with appreciation.

East Northfield is situated on the hills along the Connecticut river, just about a mile south of the point where New Hampshire and Vermont meet. But it is not of geography or topography that we wish to write. The chief impressions which we received were produced by different factors.

First we wish to note the marks of a devoted life. Northfield was the home of Dwight L. Moody. It was there he was born, and there he died. On the little eminence which they call Round Top the remains of himself and wife lie buried. Simple tombstones, inscribed with the names, dates of birth and death, mark the place. As I stood on that little knoll I thought of the epitaphs on the tablet which marks the resting place of Sir Christopher Wren, the famous architect, in St. Paul's Cathedral, London: "Si monumentum requiris circumspice." (If you would see his monument, look around.)

Meu will never know the extent of Mr. Moody's influence through his evangelism in the great cities of the English speaking world. Rich and great as that influence was, his name will go down to posterity remembered for what he did at Northfield.

At the foot of the hill (Round Top), perhaps a hundred and fifty paces from the graves is the old Moody homestead. Off to the right covering about a hundred acres, are the buildings of the Ladies Seminary, and the Auditorium where the summer conferences are held. Four miles away to the left is the Mt. Hermon school for boys.

Before proceeding further, let me tell you how Mr. Moody came to make his home. It will be remembered that he had seemingly anchored in Chicago by the fact that his evangelism gathered a large congregation about him even before the great fire of '71. But a singular experience on the occasion of a visit to his widowed mother shaped his destiny. A neighbor was annoyed by his mother's hens trespassing on his land. In order to secure his mother's comfort he bought the neighbor's place. For four years, from the Chicago fire to '75, the date of the above incident, Mr. and Mrs. Moody had been without a home. This anchored him and changed the direction of his labors.

Mr. Moody's heart went out to the girls and boys who lacked opportunity. He now set himself to the task of establishing schools where, under careful Christian training, worthy girls and boys might secure higher education. His method was to receive only such as were willing to earn half the cost of their education. It is thus the schools have become a rich blessing. This method has served to keep out such unworthy pupils as might have come if entirely free of cost. I cannot take space to tell the interesting story of the growth of these schools. It must suffice to say the enrollment during the past year was 835; there are 23 brick and stone buildings, 19 frame buildings; 62 instructors. The expenses are met by direct appeal to the benevolence of people who believe in the work. The amount which will be raised by this method this year is $80,000.

During the summer vacation period the place is busy with religious conferences. A serious religiosity pervades the place, not an ecclesiasticity. Mr. Moody was not ordained to any religious order and was criticised both for this and for his lack of intellectual training. He felt the latter keenly and did what he could by reading to supply the lack. His religion was practical, intensely practical; in this respect a veritable Edwards or Wesley. His faith was in the triune God, and a godly life was its natural fruit. The doctrinaire, with his divisive dogmas is, so far as possible, debarred from Northfield.

The citizens of Northfield throw their cottages open to the summer boarders and the place is rapidly becoming quite a resort for people who can enjoy such a place, and what a place!

The Northfield is the hotel of the place. It has room for some three hundred guests. We have stopped at hotels before, from Colorado Springs to Atlantic City, but this is the first at which we were invited to conduct morning prayers with the family and guests. The guests were not simply invited, they were present.

I have tried to tell something of what a life devoted to Christian service can do. I have not yet said anything about the Conference, and so I have taken all the space I dare claim.

Weigh Yourself Before Using.

Weigh yourself before commencing to use Samsoe, the great flesh forming food. The wonderful salve on this preparation since first introduced in Gettysburg and the remarkable results following its use has made L. M. Bushell such an enthusiastic believer in the great value of Samsoe that he gives his personal guarantee to refund the money if Samsoe will not make thin people fat and restore strength and health to those who use it.

This is a strong emanation, but L. M. Bushell has seen so many of his customers who a few weeks ago stood like walking skeletons, become plump and well set off through the use of Samsoe that he feels he cannot say more to induce people to try it.

This marvelous flesh forming food is soon taken, it is taken in small mouthfuls, 2 or 3 at a time, up the weak system. It assimilates all the waste products of the body and has for a new building in St. John Academy. McSherrystown moved across to the new. This was done necessarily rolled about fifteen feet a day by A. C. of Berlin, and his employer believes it to be the most wonderful thing ever witnessed. The building has been moved on the new site, having been busy building stones to cover the building. The stone used in the foundation were taken from under the building. The stone was moved without slight harm and the building showed the slightest trace of damage to the timbers or crack in all its offices. When the building was inspected and a plumb applied to the walls there was not the variation of an inch since since the building had been in its new location.

LARGE BRICK ACADEMY AT Mc-SHERRYSTOWN MOVED 100 FT

JACOB, of East Berlin, was annoyed by two bodies in an automobile at the garage of Wm. J. Adams in Hanover one day last week to furnish the gasoline tank on the machine. In the operation some of the gas was spilled on the body of the man. After the auto had been closed Mr. Jacob took a lighted candle to the engine of the machine which was contaminated with the fumes of gasoline and created an explosion. He also caught a blaze. W. J. Adams grabbed a blanket and smothered the flames which not only prevented the burning of the machine but also his own explosion.

W. Moul residing on the farm of G. A. Diehl near New Oxford, was saved from going through a bridge with a pair of his horses by breaking a tongue. Mr. Moul was taking a binder to the field to cut grain and was about to cross the small bridge which spans the taffrare just below Diehl's mill. As the two horses started to the machine got upon the bridge the structure gave way and the animals were precipitated into the water eight feet below. Fortunately as the horses went down the tongue broke off close to the machine and the binder on which Mr. Moul was seated was left standing upon the bank.

Rev. William Barnes of Cumberland township this county, and Rev. John E. Tuttle of Lincoln, Nebraska, were under consideration by the First Presbyterian Church of York, for a call as pastor. The Adams county man lost it said because the western preacher had a recommendation from William Jennings Bryan, having been the pastor of the latter for some years.

DRUGS—We will be distributed throughout the country, all that we have to offer. For details see our catalog.

OUR STATIONERY is a money saving. We sell it in our building on Main Street in Hanover. A general store located on the opposite side of the street from the drug store.

QUICK RELIEF for Asthma Sufferers. Foley's Honey and Tar affords immediate relief to asthma sufferers in the worst stages and if taken in time will effect a cure.

From a small beginning its sale and use has extended to every part of the United States and to many foreign countries. Nine druggists out of ten will recommend it when their opinion is asked, although they have other medicines that pay them a greater profit. It can always be depended upon, even in the most severe and dangerous cases. For sale by The Peoples Drug Store.

Why He "Let 'Em Grow."

"Yes, I've given up shaving," he told his friends. "I never could shave myself, and the last time I was operated on I was in such a blue funk that I shudder to think of it. The barber had a musical ear, and he lathered me to the tune of 'The Blind Boy' which was being ground out by a barrel organ close by." Slow certainly, but nothing to complain about. By the time the scraping process had commenced the tune had changed to the liveliest of jigs, and the musical shaver seemed to be enjoying himself hugely as he did his best to keep time. I was afraid to take a breath for fear it would be my last.

"Then the organ stopped, but only for a second, and when I heard the strains of 'Stop Your Tickling, Jock,' I vowed that rather than run the risk of being finished off in a barber's chair by a musical maniac I would let 'em grow for the future and chance the crop."—Modern Society.

Girl Bitten by Copperhead.

Drs. Engle and Atkinson, of Philadelphia, who are camping at Graeffenburg, in the upper end of Adams county, yesterday saved the life of 14-year-old Mabel Hassler, who had been bitten on the foot by a copperhead snake. The girl was on her way to the spring for water, and as she entered the springhouse, the snake, which was coiled just within the door, struck and the fangs of the reptile penetrated her bare foot.

Drs. Engle and Atkinson were fortunately supplied with the necessary remedies, by reason of the dangerous character of the work which they are carrying on in the mountains. They are capturing live rattlesnakes and copperheads for the Phila. Pathological Institute. The physicians have captured some good sized specimens, the largest one with thirteen rattles and a button, one rattle shorter than the one killed by Mark Bream.

L. M. Buehler's Unusual Offer.

"It isn't often that I have faith enough in the medicine put up by other people to be willing to offer to refund the money if it does not cure," said L. M. Buehler, to a COMPILER man who dropped into his store, "but I am glad to sell Dr. Howard's specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia on that basis."
